The highlight of my travels this past year was taking our grandson to Costa Rica to celebrate his high school graduation. Costa Rica is a beautiful country where the oceans converge with the jungle and where some of the friendliest people in the world live. We had a magnificent time.

2022 redux: Dollars and hoarded airline miles spirited me to glacial Midwest lakes and chic Paris arrondissements. Imagination took me farther – occasionally well beyond the confines of our galaxy.

I got engaged to my wonderful fiancé in my hometown of Sedona. We topped this year off by driving a U-Haul up to Sandpoint, Idaho, to help my mom start her next big adventure. Our engagement survived the trip!

My family and I went to San Francisco. We toured Alcatraz Island & rode bikes around Golden Gate Park. We also went to Las Vegas to watch the Raiders v Cardinals game. Nothing is more fun than creating memories with family & friends.

Checked in on my lovely parcel in Bend, Oregon – still just amazing trees, clear skies, sunsets to die for, and the Deschutes River full of fish and kayaks. All it needs is me someday.
